Lawless Entertainment Announces New Representation Deals With Literal Media and Andy's Airplanes

Lawless Entertainment, a Los Angeles based international production and distribution consulting firm is proud to announce two new deals for co-production and distribution.

Literal Media, formerly known as AEHC, a 4000-plus title library of literary works co-owned by Michael Douglas and Chris Baker of CP Baker and Co, has engaged Lawless to develop the properties for film and television production in partnership with international production companies, broadcast networks and other entities. The Literal Media library boasts the works of world-renowned authors such as Cornell Woolrich (Rear Window), known as the father of film noir; Damon Runyon (Guys and Dolls), the greatest 20th Century short story writer; and Shirley Jackson (Haunting of Hill House, The Lottery), the influential writer of psychological horror. Literal Media's website is www.literalmedia.com.

In addition, Andy's Airplanes is a delightful CG animation project for the 5-8 year old kids, featuring Andy and his delightful sidekick and pet ferret, Yagyrr, who travel around the world in Andy's plane having adventures and visiting exotic and exciting locations. Andy's Airplanes was created by award winning producer Jon Pierre Francia. Andy's Airplanes LLC has hired Lawless Entertainment to develop the property as an animation series as well as secure deals for financing and worldwide distribution. Andy's Airplanes website is www.andysairplanes.com.

Lawless Entertainment works with both companies to assist in the development, financing, co-production and distribution (in all media) of the various properties.

Lawless Entertainment, headed up by industry veterans Cathy Malatesta and Bryan Taw, creates, co-produces, distributes and markets both animated and live-action programming throughout the world for both film and television. Lawless works with content providers and has relationships with top film, television, home video, online and mobile distribution entities in every major market.
